

Canned Cat Food Nutritional Information

Compiled by Janet & Binky

Updated: March 22, 2008

This page is a non-commercial labor of love that has no connection to any commercial product, including foods or supplements. I do not endorse any brand of food or supplement. I encourage potential consumers of any commercial product to search for randomized controlled trials that demonstrate that a low-carbohydrate diet with the product gives statistically superior results compared to a low-carbohydrate diet alone in diabetic cats.

CAUTION: These numbers are only as up to date as my information from the manufacturers, and several manufacturers will no longer give actual values for protein and fat to their customers. If you must have accurate, up to date, information on a particular food, be sure to contact the manufacturer and request the actual values.
