Dog Owner Information About VETORYL® (trilostane) Capsules
Adrenocortical suppressant for oral use in dogs only

VETORYL® CAPSULES (trilostane)

VETORYL® (pronounced “vet-or-ill”) Capsules

VETORYL® Capsules are a prescription drug for dogs.

Hyperadrenocorticism (also known as Cushing’s disease) is a condition in which excess levels of the hormone cortisol are produced. Cortisol is normally released from the adrenal gland into the bloodstream at times of stress. In dogs with hyperadrenocorticism, the level of cortisol produced is excessive and, if left untreated, becomes incapacitating.

Characteristic signs are:

- Pacing large quantities of urine
- Frequent urination and possible incontinence
- Excessive thirst
- Restlessness
- Appetite decreases
- Depressed appetite
- Vomiting
- Hair loss or recurrent skin diseases
- Thin skin
- Muscle wasting
- Bone pain
- Agitation
- Lethargy or decreased activity
- Excessive panting
- Thin skin
- Hair loss or recurrent skin diseases
- Muscle wasting

VETORYL® Capsules contain an adrenosuppressant drug that is used to treat hyperadrenocorticism in dogs. VETORYL Capsules are a prescription drug for dogs. Your dog may not necessarily display all of these signs.
